

Energy Transition Strategy

Strategy	Key Facts
The Strategy invests in companies and technologies related to cleaner production of energy. With carbon emissions less than half that of coal and 25% lower than oil products<sup>1</sup>, Ashland believes Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) demand will continue to increase with many analysts projecting 4% annual growth through 2040<sup>2</sup>. The Strategy also invests in miners and technologies associated with metals essential to the burgeoning renewable energy and EV economy. These include lithium, copper, and nickel. Further, the Strategy seeks to find opportunities in the areas Carbon Capture Sequestration and Utilization (CCSU), Carbon Credits, as well as Hydrogen-based fuels. The investment portfolio consists primarily of common stocks and options contracts.	Minimum Investment	$10,000

Important Information:

The returns of Ashland Heights Energy In Transition Strategy (the "Strategy") are derived from Ashland's fund account performance from January 1, 2017 to present (net of all Advisor fees and expenses). The performance includes the reinvestment of dividends and other corporate earnings and is calculated in USD. Benchmark returns are based on Alps Alerian MLP Index Fund (ticker: AMLP) assuming dividends reinvested. AMLP began trading in August 2010 and is viewed to be an appropriate benchmark due to its focus on midstream oil & gas limited partnerships, which presents a similar strategy to Ashland's strategy. XLE is the Energy Select Sector SPDR (ticker: XLE) and is shown to illustrate a broader view of the energy industry.

Ashland Heights Capital Management, LLC ("Advisor") is a registered investment advisor located in the state of Texas. Information contained in this report is for informational purposes only and should not be considered investment advice or recommendations. Information is also subject to change based on economic and other factors. Advice may only be provided after entering into an advisory agreement with Advisor.

As the Strategy is administered through Separately Managed Accounts (SMA), therefore investment interests in the Strategy have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any State's securities laws, and are sold for investment only pursuant to an exemption from registration with the SEC and in compliance with any applicable state or other securities laws. Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws. Investors should be aware that they could be required to bear the financial risks of this investment for an indefinite period of time.

A prospective investor should only commit to an investment in the Strategy if such prospective investor understands the nature of the investment and can bear the economic risk of such investment. The Strategy is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. The Strategy may lack diversification, thereby increasing the risk of loss. The Strategy's performance may be volatile. There can be no guarantee that the Strategy's investment objectives will be achieved, and the investment results may vary substantially from year to year or even from month to month. As a result, an investor could lose all or a substantial amount of its investment. In addition, the Strategy's fees and expenses may offset its profits. There are restrictions on withdrawing and transferring interests from the Strategy. In making an investment decision, you must rely on your own examination of the Strategy and the terms of the Advisory Agreement and Investment Policy Statement (IPS) with Ashland.

Master Limited Partnerships (MLPs) are publicly traded partnerships typically concentrated in the energy infrastructure industry. Investing in MLPs involves additional risks as compared to investing in common stock including risks related to cash flow, dilution, and voting rights which may increase volatility. Energy infrastructure companies are subject to risks specific to the industry such as fluctuations in commodity prices, reduced volumes of natural gas or other energy commodities, environmental hazards, changes in the macroeconomic or the regulatory environment, or extreme weather. MLPs may trade less frequently than larger companies due to their smaller capitalizations which may result in erratic price movement or difficulty in buying or selling. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Read Ashland's IPS and FINRA Disclosure Brochure (Form ADV Part II) carefully before investing.
